A "Monday Moment" with... Nick Taubenslag

Good Morning! We are into week 3 of our "Monday Moments" series, which in case you're joining us for the first time, is part of The Arc of New Jersey's National Disability Employment Awareness Month celebration. Today, we introduce you to Nick Taubenslag who works as a porter at a Stop & Shop in Central New Jersey. Nick ensures that the grocery store's outside appearance is attractive to shoppers. He's responsible for returning carts, cleaning up and keeping things in order. Nick works about 18 hours a week and has been employed by Stop & Shop for the last three years. He says his time there has given him, "a lot of experience, good working relationships with customers and an uplift in self-esteem and that's huge for me." Nick says he enjoys working with his co-workers and the management staff of the grocery store. When asked what he'd like other New Jersey employers to know, Nick said: "People with disabilities are the hardest working, most dedicated and persevering people."
