

You're caring for your
special needs child.
Who is caring for you?

As mothers of children and
young adults
with special needs,
we understand.

Mom2Mom is a peer support service to address the behavioral health challenges of caring for a special needs child. Moms with children with developmental disabilities, autism, mental health conditions, medical problems, and more can find comfort in connections. Mom2Mom offers peer support counseling, assessments, a specialized provider network, and resilience and support groups. Over 30 special-needs Mom Peer counselors are here to take your call because we have been where you are, and we understand. Call us today!
